

DANIELLE CARDER
Department of English
Pennsylvania State University
University Park, PA 16802
dmc66@psu.edu
(304) 303-3971

EDUCATION

PhD English and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, The Pennsylvania State University (August 2023)

- Anticipated dissertation title "The Civil War and Those Who Cared: Nineteenth Century Literature and National Trauma"
- Director: Claire Colebrook

M.A. English, The Pennsylvania State University (May 2018)

- Concentration: 19th-Century American Literature
- Director Carla Mulford

B.A. English Literature, Shepherd University (May 2016)

B.A. English Education, Shepherd University (May 2016)

ACADEMIC INTERESTS

Nineteenth-Century American Literature; Ethics of Care; Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; Civil War Literature; Motherhood; Affect Studies; Critical Race Theory; Sentimental Literature

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Graduate Instructor at The Pennsylvania State University

- English 15 Composition and Rhetoric
- English 202C Technical Writing
- English 5 Tutorial Instruction
- AMST 140Y Religion in American Life and Thought
- ENGL 222 British Literature from 1798

Certified World Campus Instructor

- Foundations for Teaching Online

Graduate Student Mentor, English Department Mentoring Program, The Pennsylvania State University (2017-2018)

West Virginia Teaching Certification 5-Adult (2016)

Writing Center Tutor, Shepherd University (2014-2016)

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Research Assistant for The Henry James Letters Project (Aug 2017 – May 2018; Aug 2020 - )

Editor for Anthology of Appalachian Writers (2015-2016)

CONFERENCES

“The Work, the Work, the Work”: Passion and Poverty in A Movable Feast and The Paris Wife” XVIII International Hemingway Conference, Paris, France (2018)

“Vine in Silas House’s A Parchment of Leaves and Mother, Earth: An Eco-Feminist Interpretation” Appalachian Studies Association Conference, Shepherdstown, WV (2016)

“Critical Analysis of Rhetorical Arguments in Moby-Dick, ‘An Indian’s Looking-Glass for the White Man,’ and ‘What to the Slave is the Fourth of July?’” Fairmont State Undergraduate Literary Symposium, Fairmont, WV (2014)

AWARDS

McMurrin Scholar Award (2015)